A total of 30 properties were present, whether in-person or by proxy.

Currently, there are 112 properties confirmed to be within the HOA. Based on 112 properties, 22.4 properties are required to establish a quorum, thus a quorum was determined.

Agenda:

Call to Order (Lauren Grady)

Round-table intros by owners present

Quorum Established (Lauren Grady)

History/Why of ETLOA (Jeff Ashby)

- The ETLOA exists to give buyers a set of expectations for new owners (no junk lots, blend when building, comply with county codes/regulations, peaceful community), to help neighbors resolve issues amicably if/when needed, and to protect property values.
- We have been an HOA in good standing w/the Colorado Secretary of State since 2015.

Activity Report (Lauren Grady)

- Delayed Annual Meeting: For the record, the annual meeting is required, according to the Bylaws, to be held the second Saturday of July. This year the meeting was rescheduled to August 22 due to the Willow Fire, the pre-evacuation notice sent to residents of ETLOA, and heavy smoke in the area.
- Annual Letters: There were 94 individual letters mailed this year, including 34 late notices for 44 lots. 4-5 letters were originally returned due to incorrect/outdated addresses, and a second attempt was made.
- Dues: As of Friday, 8/21 (prior to anything collected at this meeting), $610 has been received for 2026 dues (35.7% of the total due). We've also collected some past dues (mostly for 2025). The total amount of past dues owed is $1,515. 2025 was a below average year for collecting dues – we've only received 65.2% of dues owed for that year. Previous years (2016-2024) we've collected, on average, 78% of dues owed, though the average for 2020-2024 was even higher at nearly 80%.
- Sales: 6 properties, 1 within Ross/Ross II, the rest within EE Hill, changed hands within the past year.
- HOA Status Requests: The board responded to 8 HOA status requests for properties within the HOA (along with numerous other requests for properties NOT within the HOA).
- Building Plans Reviewed/Approved: The Architectural Advisory Group (AAG) reviewed and approved three sets of build plans.

Reminder to everyone that as you're getting ready to build, you should submit plans to the AAG. Either by mail or email to the board & we will forward to the members of the AAG for review.*

- Builds in process: there are currently 5 properties under construction – 1 in Ross/Ross II, and 4 in EE Hill.
- Completed Builds: there were 5 builds completed in the past year – 4 in Ross/Ross II and 1 in EE Hill.
- Properties currently on the market: there are currently 8 properties on the market – 2 in Ross/Ross II and 6 in EE Hill. Of these, all but one are unimproved lots.

Financial Report

- Checking account balance: $4,125.22
- 2026 Income
 - Dues and back dues: $730 ($610 2026, $120 back dues)
 - Interest: $0.46
- 2026 Annual Budget: $2,042
 - $911 Insurance
 - $500 Annual Meeting
 - $126 Post Office Box
 - $300 Website hosting and security
 - $180 Printing and Postage for Annual Letter and Special Communication
 - $25 Annual State Registration fee
- Income is less than budgeted expenses, deficit = $1312
 - Checking account balance will drop to less than $3,000

Wildfire topics - Colorado Wildfire resiliency act, mitigation, chipping

- Colorado published a new wildfire resiliency building code in 2025 with an enforcement date of July 1, 2026. Lake County is expected to enforce the state code until they formally publish a local version. New builders can expect to show that they have met the code requirements when applying for a building permit. The code covers roofing materials, siding, water storage, vents, soffits, decks, and much more.
- Many of the east Twin Lakes owners have mitigated their lots against wildfire spread by removing dead materials and fuels that allow fire to climb into tree branches, with a primary goal of creating defensible space around their structures. The Arkansas River Watershed Collaborative provided two days of free chipping of the mitigation slash. We expect this program to continue next summer.

Guest Speaker – Sam Mader from the Arkansas River Watershed Collaboration (a nonprofit organization) discussed their three primary missions:

- Fire mitigation
- Watershed restoration
- Community Outreach

Note: Sam and Cole (from the Colorado State Forest Service) will be holding a free Home Ignition Zone workshop for us at the Louch/Younger residences after the meeting today at 12:15pm.

Website update (Dan Wisleder)

Since the last meeting:

- 1,500 website views – higher than average
- 74 email addresses on the distribution list – please contact Dan or Christi Wisleder if you'd like your email address to be added to the distribution list
- $264.19 was the total cost to run the website/manage website security

Director election (one open position)

Daniel Anthone's term is up this year. Jeff Ashby nominated Daniel for another term, Dave Jurich seconded the motion. Unanimous vote to re-elect.

Discussion Items:

- Xcel Project Update – Updates from Russell Kerle, consultant for Xcel Energy
 - We were expecting some activity starting around the July timeframe. They'd been delayed due to permits needed re: the BLM land to our north/south, but likely the Willow Fire caused additional delays. It won't be constant construction activity but will come in spurts of +/- 1 week.
 - MOST of the truck traffic in/out will come through the south of the lots (equipment is currently being staged on Parcel 1-A, Tracts 61 & 62), but the larger trucks - semi's and those trucks carrying the larger pieces of equipment - will need to come through EE Hill from County Rd 10 from the northwest - i.e. our main route in/out on this side of the hill.
 - There will also be helicopters transporting some of the larger pieces as well.
 - It was a surprise to Russell (Xcel Public Relations Agent) that EE Hill is a private road with public access. He thought it was a public road maintained by the County - and now that he understands that is not the case, and that the small number of property owners who require regular access are responsible for the costs related to maintaining the road - he better appreciates the concerns we have about what wear & tear these trucks will have on the roads.
 - Based on an early June meeting with the board, Xcel was going to send a surveyor out to take stock of the current road conditions, and Russell said Xcel is committed to leaving the roads in better shape than when they started.
 - Russell also said that he thought they might need to make a few improvements (like grading, fixing culverts, etc.) - and his original plan was to consult with the County - but he now understands that it's probably us he'll need to reach out to.

- Parcel 1-A Road Committee

Since roads – particularly on the EE Hill side – have been a topic of conversation during recent annual meetings, during this annual meeting a road committee is created to discuss issues, investigate solutions, etc.

Action: Committee to document conditions of EE Hill Drive with digital photographs and videos.

- Mailboxes

In July/August of 2025, the HOA purchased and installed a CBU (Cluster Box Unit) at the intersection of County Rd 10 and Colorado Highway 82. This CBU has a total of 16 mailbox receptacles, 12 of which are currently not assigned to anyone. These will be available for ETLOA property owners who don't already have local mailboxes and will be initially reserved for those whose primary residence is Twin Lakes. The board (currently Jody Meyer) holds the keys (as a way to keep these boxes reserved for our members) and will assign boxes and keys to those who request a box. Once you have been assigned a box and received your keys, you must provide a Certificate of Occupancy and a completed "Rural Customer Delivery Instructions" form (which can be obtained from Jody) to the Buena Vista postmaster so that mail service can begin.

- Recent Bear Activity

Given the wildfire and the drought this summer, several bears are displaced and/or looking further for food sources – so property owners within the neighborhood (and elsewhere in Lake County) have seen increased bear activity on their properties. Be bear aware – bears have been seen both in the daytime and at nighttime – and keep trash and bird feeders securely stored from bears.

- County actions and results

Last year, the county received an anonymous letter that alleged about 12 properties named having code violations. The county investigated, found 10 of them with violations, and sent out letters. Most properties complied, but ultimately, the county elected to file lawsuits against two of the noncompliant property owners. One of those elected to comply, the lawsuit was dropped, and the property is now on the market. The other elected to proceed to court. Two ETLOA board members were asked by the county to testify. Ultimately, the judge sided with the county, and the property owner complied. That property is now also on the market.

HOA covenants and bylaws are largely aligned with/not much more stringent than county code, and the HOA did not take action other than to advise the property owners prior to purchase (including advice provided prior to purchase) to comply with the county regulations.

Open Discussion

Shelly Schwartz asked if anyone smelled propane gas. She and guests at her property occasionally smell it. It was suggested she contact the fire department to investigate...

Meeting adjourned at 11:19 am.

Per HOA bylaws, next year's meeting will be held on Saturday, July 10, 2027, at 10:00 am Mountain Time. Location to be at the corner of County Rd 10 and Reva Ridge Road on the ETLOA lot.
